

PUMPING OF WASTE OIL FROM MECHANIC WORK SHOPS (car or agricultural machinery repair).

Treatment of waste oil is done at several Danish Waste Water Treatment Plants.

The oil is delivered in drums, which are emptied into a reception pit.

Traditional pumps often clogged due to rags, lumps of twist or even small pieces of metal contained in the oil.

Landia chopper pumps solved the problem.

